CITY OF PALM DESERT
STAFF REPORT

MEETING DATE: November 21, 2024

PREPARED BY: Thomas Soule, Public Affairs Manager

SUBJECT: CONSIDERATION OF A $5,000 SPONSORSHIP OF THE CALIFORNIA
DESERT PLEIN AIR FESTIVAL

RECOMMENDATION:

Consider for approval a proposed sponsorship of the California Desert Plein Air Festival in the amount of $5,000.

BACKGROUND/ANALYSIS:

The City of Palm Desert recently approved a sponsorship of the California Desert Plein Air Festival, which is seeking to greatly expand its presence and local impact for the upcoming 2025 iteration. Palm Springs Life has been brought on to assist the Festival with its marketing and will present a sponsorship opportunity to the Board for consideration.

FINANCIAL IMPACT:

If approved, this sponsorship would become part of a mid-year budget adjustment. Funds are available for this purpose in the EPPBID cash reserve.

PALM DESERT PRESENTS CALIFORNIA DESERT PLEIN AIR

The Desert Plein Air Association (DPAA), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, promotes the centuries-old tradition of landscape and scene painting en plein air (outdoors).

Through its annual California Desert Plein Air Festival and year-round paint-outs, exhibitions, and enrichment/education programs, DPAA provides inspiration and opportunities for the public, DPAA members, and local artists of all levels to engage in plein-air painting.

Plein-air festivals have come and gone in the Coachella Valley over the years. DPAA, founded by Diane Moore (former president of Coachella Valley Watercolor Society and Desert Art Center) and Daniel Foster (former executive director of the Riverside Art Museum and Oceanside Museum of Art) is dedicated to organizing an annual event that grows into the largest, most important plein-air festival in the U.S. Southwest — and a destination event for the City of Palm Desert. The 2025 edition will be their fourth festival at the Artists Center in Palm Desert.

The California Desert Plein Air Festival begins with four days of paint-outs at scenic locations in and around Palm Desert, the Coachella Valley, High Desert, and beyond. The artists pick and study their vantage points, paint on site, and turn in their canvases for the exhibition and judging. The exhibition features a companion show featuring desert landscape paintings completed in the artists' studios, expanding artist participation and the scope of paintings available for the public to view and purchase at the festival.

WHY A PLEIN AIR FESTIVAL?

Plein-air painting in the Coachella Valley dates back to the 1870s when the Southern Pacific Railroad put down tracks through the desert and allowed artists to ride in exchange for their artwork, which the railroads used in advertisements to promote travel to the West. Many of the top artists of the era came through the desert. Some continued to the emerging artist colonies along the California coast – Laguna Beach, Santa Barbara, Carmel – while others settled into the Coachella Valley and nearby Mojave Desert.

Plein-air artists exhibit in specialty galleries and in markets with a predisposed audience for their work, relying on the circuit of regional plein-air festivals to exhibit and sell their paintings. These events draw enthusiast audiences from near and far, connecting artists to collectors and creating long-lasting relationships.

The California Desert Plein Air Festival runs roughly three weeks, beginning with artist check-in, reception, and dinner followed by four days of paint-outs on location around the desert, workshops, demonstrations, artist talks, an exhibition and sale, and an awards program.

The awards program is comprised of an exhibition that will be evaluated and judged by esteemed and recognized experts, who will award artists cash prizes for Best in Show; first, second, and third places; and honorable mentions. The awards will be presented at a reception in the exhibition space that is open to the public.

THE AUDIENCE

California Desert Plein Air Festival stands out as the only event dedicated to historic and still-thriving field of plein-air painting in the Coachella Valley. Our region has several “general” art festivals — Indian Wells Art Festival, Southwest Art Festival, La Quinta Art Celebration — featuring “circuit” artists who travel from town to town with their painting, photography, sculpture, mixed media, textile, jewelry, and wearables. Additionally, Palm Springs Convention Center hosts an art fair featuring more than 50 contemporary art galleries from around the country, and the biennial Desert X invites a handful of artists from around the world to create site-specific installations across the region. The closest plein-air event to the Coachella Valley is the annual Plein Air Invitational in Borrego Springs, which takes place March 3–April 27, 2025. While “general” art festivals target local audiences, as well as visitors, plein-air events are destination events, attracting not only participating artists and their families, but also their loyal collectors. With the benefit of depicting familiar local landscapes, the artwork draws local audiences to marvel at and purchase the paintings, usually meeting the artist in person and developing a lasting connection. We’ll invite this robust plein-air community to join us in Palm Desert through promotions in Plein Air Magazine, Southwest Art Magazine, and Western Art Collector as well as through targeted social media.

PROJECTED ATTENDEES: 2,000 - 3,000

The attendance of this 2025 event will increase due to the marketing and PR initiatives by Palm Springs Life (valued at over $75,000) and Visit Greater Palm Springs will add to the promotional muscle.

100 + artist from across the United States

$15,000 Cash Prize

Total cash prize in 2024 was less than $5,000. The increase in prize money will attract top plein-air artists to participate in the festival. 2025 Exhibition categories include: Featured VIP artists, Desert Landscape or Desert Cityscape and Plein Air Competition.
